

Whether you're enjoying an open space trail or park or just your own neighborhood, remember there is no magic wand or fairy that makes pet waste disappear after you leave it on the ground. The poop goes somewhere - and in many cases it's our local streams (or maybe under your shoe). Keep the "magic" in the Skagit by scooping your pet's poop and keeping our waterways clean.

It's simple: Scoop it, bag it, trash it! And don't forget to wash your hands.

There's no such thing as the
Poop Fairy

Only you can make your pet's waste disappear.

Pet waste contains harmful bacteria and parasites that make people and pets sick. When it is left on the ground, it washes down storm drains and contaminates our streams and rivers.

Scoop it. Bag it. Trash it.
